If the order listed above is correct and you have read the custom order agreement on the second page, please reply "I have read and agree to both the custom order and agreement pages."

Once Sports Saddle receives your confirmation, your custom order will be started. Please note that after agreeing this custom order is correct, any further requested changes to your order may result in additional charges.

Custom Order Agreement

- If your saddle is a custom order, it cannot be returned for refund.
- If there is a problem with workmanship or material, the company will repair or replace said parts or materials at our expense.
- After a custom saddle order has been submitted and approved we will not accept any changes to the order.
- Cancelled orders already in the works will be charged a $125 restocking fee.
The fee to cancel a saddle with an exotic skin such as ostrich will be $300.
- All custom orders are given special handling and are made in a separate department where they are hand built by our most experienced senior saddle maker. Special care is taken to make sure the saddle is made to your exact specifications. We cannot guarantee cosmetic features on each saddle will be exactly the same since these saddles are hand-made.

If you decide you do not want your custom saddle, the company will try to do one of the following:

- A. You can send the saddle back to Sports Saddle (at your expense) and pay for Sports Saddle to do necessary alterations to bring the saddle back to (regular catalog) specs if possible.
- B. Send the saddle back to Sports Saddle and we will put it on our in-stock list and we will try to sell the saddle for you but you may have to discount the price to get it sold. Custom saddles can be difficult to re-sell depending on the extent of customizing that has been done. We at Sports Saddle will try our very best to sell your saddle quickly and at the best possible price. There will be a 10% charge on the selling price of the saddle for this service. Saddles will be sent out to customers on a 1-day trial period. We can mark the saddle as non-returnable but it may take longer to sell.

- If you receive your custom saddle and decide you want something changed or further customized, Sports Saddle will try to work with you, but any additional work will be at your expense.
 - Please keep in mind that leather is tanned from natural cowhides and although we use only select premium hides, there will be some natural blemishes in the leather. Also, as the materials we use in our saddles are soft and flexible, when we sew the saddles together it may leave sewing machine “footer” marks on the leather, which is unavoidable. Also, there may be some slight variation in the length of the stitching due to the nature of the materials. We cannot guarantee custom “Dyed” or some custom colors of suede leather to be “colorfast”.
- Please take these items into account when ordering a custom saddle.
- Our goal is to assure that you understand what you are ordering and that you will be happy with your saddle.
 - If you are not familiar with “Sports Saddles” or have never ridden one, we strongly recommend that you not order a custom saddle.
 - Often we have a few in-stock saddles that may fit your needs or that you can test ride for 10 days and you are only out the cost of shipping and handling if you choose to return it. After your 10 day trial, you may decide to keep the saddle or simply ship the saddle back to us and you will have a much better idea of what type of saddle you need to order to fit your needs. Our skilled staff will be happy to work with you.
 - Please clarify any questions by contacting us at this time before agreeing to this custom order agreement.
